All but a few plants are in, Scott is just waiting on a starfruit and some night blooming jasmine. There is still some trenching to be done and water connections to be made. There is also a small amount of rock wall work near the gate to be done. Jean reports that she mis-spoke at the previous Board Meeting and that all receipts have in fact been turned in on the project. It is noted that there will be no Work Party as there is inadequate work left to do.

Kristin and Jean cite several instances where Bylaw changes were passed without rationales in the past. John D. states that they weren't always needed.
